

AMERICA PUT "IN BAD" WITH MOST OF WORLD

Checking Up of Summary
Shows Basis of Animosities Against U. S.

CHINESE FEEL HURT Fiume's Disposal Will Cause Dissatisfaction Whatever Council May Decide.

Unbiased observers continued their "checking up" processes on the peace treaty summary yesterday. Their preliminary conclusions show the United States, which prior to November 11 held the foremost position in world affairs, to be about the most general and all around member of the "in-bad" club on the universe. And their conclusions are the result of the publication of the peace treaty.

No matter what the conference decides ultimately with regard to Fiume, the United States will retain much of the ill will which the Italian people have toward President Wilson. It is reckoned, and if Fiume should go to Italy the population of new Jugoslavia may look upon us much as the Italians have been doing in the last three weeks.

Blamed by Germans. Germany now blames the United States for the preparation of the treaty, and seems to think that President Wilson is the author of most of the text. This antipathy, however, will only be temporary, inasmuch as the President would have been compelled, had he taken upon himself the task of drafting the treaty, to leave for France about last July instead of December. German antagonism, moreover, doesn't amount to much, as it comes from a nation outside the circle of our friends.

Chinese feeling, though, is put in a different light. China has seen America acquiesce in the award of the Shantung province, the richest portion of her nation, to a country which has never regarded China except in the light of an easy prey for exploitation.

Chinese in this city who have always regarded the United States with the friendliest feelings, and deemed us China's chief protector against Japanese aggression, feel that we have sacrificed their nation to their one enemy—Japan.

Don't Understand Action.

They are unable to reconcile our oft-expressed friendship with the action of the Peace Conference, nor are they able to understand why one of the cornerstones of the league of nations should rest on the wilful rifting of a huge portion of their country so as to appease the insatiable appetite for conquest of another country which did little in the war.

French public opinion, which developed in harshness as far as the Americans were concerned shortly after the arrival of the President and his party on French soil, and which reached an apex when the President threatened to quit Paris, is partly reconciled, it is believed, by the President's promise of an alliance which would insure France's protection for all time.

British opinion is dormant for the present, although there have been some expressions of plique because the United States will be allowed to retain the German ships which were seized in our ports when we entered the war.

Canadians Our Friends.

On our own continent Canada remains friendly, largely because of the bond of friendship which developed between Canadian and American troops during the war, and because the sentiment of the two nations is the same regarding the immigration question as it pertains to the Japanese, but Mexican antipathy, which is chronic, has increased in vehemence since the Carranza government learned it was "persona non grata" in the league of nations. The United States is blamed for the inability of the Mexican government to obtain admission to the league.

SENATORS TO QUIZ WILSON ON TREATY

Senator Penrose to the chairmanship of the Finance Committee. No discussion was made concerning the conference.

Attacked by Penrose. Senator Penrose issued a statement attacking the provision in the treaty which awards the Shantung Peninsula to Japan. He said:

"I get the impression that the granting of the Shantung Peninsula to Japan is violating every principle of the league of peace. It seems to be nothing short of a bribe to Japan to concur in the league of nations. It barter away the rights and citizenship of 40,000,000 Chinese people and dispossesses China of a rich and valuable territory against her will. The United States is invited to join the league of nations and under the provisions of Article 10 this country, as well as every other party to the league will be called upon to guarantee for all time the possession of Shantung by Japan.

"It will not be very surprising that the Chinese find it very difficult to comprehend the practical workings of the idealistic program outlined in the fourteen points. They have been despoiled, and unctuous phrases cannot alter that."

Open to Amendments. Senator Penrose expressed the opinion that separation of the LEAGUE OF NATIONS COVENANT FROM THE PEACE TREATY WILL NOT BE VERY DIFFICULT, HE SAID.

"The question of the ability of the Senate to separate the covenant from the treaty is not, in my opinion, of first importance, because the whole document is open to amendment in the Senate, just as any bill or other measure submitted to the Senate is, and any objection to the league of nations covenant can be met by amendments offered in that body.

"As regards the treaty and the league, there is no information at hand as to when the document will be sent to the Senate. There may be delays. It may be necessary to make more partitions of territory before the door is closed on future despoiling. Italy may have to be satisfied more fully."

EIGHT STRIKES PROBED BY U. S.

Labor Dept. Attempting to Settle Disputes Involving Several Thousand Men.

Strikes, lockouts and labor controversies in eight cities involving several thousand men are being investigated by the Labor Department.

Labor Department investigators yesterday were working in the following cities:

St. Charles, Ill.—Crown Electric Manufacturing Co.; lockout; men charge company refused overtime pay for work three nights weekly and discharged all who failed to report besides refusing demands for increased wages and overtime pay at the rate of time and one-half; Commissioner Oscar F. Nelson named mediator.

Parkersburg, W. Va.—Baldwin Tool Works; lockout declared by company because of organization of union according to reports to department; Commissioner Homer J. Brown designated mediator.

Atlanta, Ga.—Atlanta Steel Co.; strike threatened May 12 unless men are reinstated who were discharged for union membership, according to department reports. J. W. Bridwell named mediator.

York, Pa.—All bakery and confectionery workers threaten strike unless wages increased and working conditions bettered; James Purcell named mediator.

St. Louis—General building strike threatened in sympathy, department learned, with striking structural workers; Commissioner F. G. Rhode directed to arrange joint meeting of strikers and employers.

Tulsa, Okla.—McEwen Manufacturing Co.; striking machinists, molders and blacksmiths agreed to return to work Monday pending arbitration of eight-hour day demand; Commissioner

PENROSE FACES BITTER FIGHT

Progressives to Oppose His Candidacy for Chairman
Of Finance Committee.

Senate progressives yesterday united to defeat Senator Penrose as chairman of the Senate finance committee, and Senator Warren (Wyoming), as chairman of the appropriations committee, and overturn the time-honored "seniority rule."

After a two-hour conference eight progressive Republican senators named Senators Borah and Hiram Johnson to notify Senator Lodge, Republican leader, that progressives "are not satisfied with the proposed chairman of the finance and appropriations committee, are not willing to support them, and do not recognize the seniority rule as binding against what we believe to be the best interests of the party and the country."

Senator Borah announced the decision. Those attending the conference, which was held in Borah's office, were Johnson, California; Cummins, Jones, Washington; McNary, Oregon; Kenyon, McCormick, Norris and Borah. Borah stated that all but Cummins are pledged to oppose Penrose and Warren, not only in the Republican caucus next Wednesday, but on the floor of the Senate.

The finance committee determines tax raising. The appropriations committee determines how the money is spent. The objections to Penrose, as voiced by progressives, are that he is "reactionary" and unfitted by his economic views to head the committee framing tax laws.

WILSON WILL STAND PAT ON FIUME PLAN

President Wilson has not changed his position on Fiume, according to advises reaching the White House yesterday. Stories that the President would agree to hand Fiume over to Italy as a mandatory until 1923, after which it was to become an Italian possession, were branded as pure fiction.

Robert McQuade to arrange arbitration.

Scranton, Pa.—City employees voted to delay strike on assurance mayor and council will reconsider workers' schedule of grievances; John J. S. Rogers acting as mediator.

Kelley Island, Ohio—Kelley Island Lime and Transport Co.; strike of 625 men terminated through efforts of Mediator F. G. Davis; nine-hour day established with minimum wage of 37 cents an hour.

STAGE AND SCREEN STARS AT SALVATION ARMY BALL

Elaborate Program to Be Presented Without Cost to Organization Through Aid of D. C. Business Men.

One of the most elaborate entertainments in the history of Washington is to be given next week without the expenditure of even one cent. This achievement by the committee in charge of the grand millinery ball at Wardman Park Inn on Monday night, May 19, for the benefit of the Salvation Army, is one of the many remarkable records established since preparations were begun for an event that is attracting nationwide attention.

Even the music for the dancing and the scene of the festivities come within the remarkable list of donations that is helping to make this benefit a tremendous financial success. The famous Marine Band, under the leadership of Lieut. William H. Santelmann, has been loaned to the ball-committee by Maj. Gen. George Barnett, commandant of the United States Marine Corps. Harry Wardman, owner of the Wardman Park Inn, not only has contributed the ball, but has put a double shift of mechanics at work to complete this week a new wing of the building to be used for the various booths and for the dramatic entertainment scheduled for the midnight hour of the dance.

The theatrical celebrities who are to appear would wreck the bank account of any producer who attempted to assemble them for a single entertainment on a salary basis. These include: Miss Margaret Anglin, who comes to the National Theatre next week in her brilliant comedy success, "Billeted," members of companies to be at the Belasco Theatre in "Poor Little Sheep;" at Poli's Theatre in "The Crimson Alibi;" and at the Garrick Theatre in "Luck;" also "Frisco," the sensational jazz dancer; Cressy and Dayne, Dorothy Toye, Watts and Storey, and other famous vaudeville headline artists of fame through the B. F. Keith Theater management.

Screen Stars Also to Appear. These and other stars of the audible stage to be announced later, will have as rivals a group of the most famous motion picture stars in the United States, who will appear in person. Tom Moore, president of the Moore Theaters Syndicate, will make a flying trip to New York today to complete arrangements for their appearance. Moore will bring the screen stars to Washington as his guests.

Harry Crandall, head of the Crandall chain of theaters in this city, is now in New York arranging for the appearance of other photoplays stars. The Paramount Corporation has sent word it will be represented by one or more favorites of movie fans. In fact, every branch of the theatrical profession in the United States will be brilliantly represented when the Vice President of the United States and Mrs. Marshall lead the old-fashioned march what is to usher in the brilliant ball in Washington.

Feminine leaders of Washington society, in charge of the many booths, will wear the red and blue uniform of the organization. At the foot of some of the prettiest debutantes in Washington will be saleswomen, each dressed to represent a different flower.

Stunning Modiste Creations.

The millinery booth will display stunning modiste creations. A thousand hats, trimmed by Mrs. Lawrence Townsend and her assistants of the millinery committee, will be merely one of the dazzling displays. The equipment of this booth also will include contributions from Woodward and Lothrop, S. Kohn Sons' Company, the Palais Royal, Lansburgh and Brother, "Goldenberg's" Department Store, Julius Garfunkel and Company, and practically every other similar establishment in Washington.

Contributions for example, included a golf bag, given by the W. F. Roberts Company; a mahogany tip-table, contributed by the Julius Lansburgh Company, and a tea-wagon, donated by House and Hermann. The bazaar feature of the benefit will open from 3 to 7 o'clock for those who attend the afternoon tea dance that is to be a supplemental feature of the ball. The bazaar also will be open throughout the evening and night.

The floor committee for the military ball will constitute virtually a "Who's Who" of the National Capital.

Some of the Members.

Some of the members, whose acceptances have been received, are: Chief Justice Edward Douglas White and Justices Holmes, McKenna and Oliver Wendell Holmes; Secretary to the President Joseph P. Tumulty; Jewett Shouse, Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane; Attorney General Mitchell A. Palmer; Justice Mahlon Pitney, Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield, John R. THE DESERT OF WHEAT By Zane Grey

In this book Zane Grey makes another important contribution to the creation of a vivid American literature as virile as the country of its origin. Americanism is a dominant characteristic of Zane Grey's work.

"The author is a story teller of tried popularity, and this is up to the standards of his previous novels . . . the story is effectively told."

THE BOSTON TRANSCRIPT.

"The novel is a virile, red-blooded tale, with much action and much fighting. It strikes a deeper note than the author's earlier books, having a more considered philosophical outlook and a fuller realization of spiritual needs."

CINCINNATI ENQUIRER.

"A tale more powerful than any Mr. Grey has hitherto produced."

BROOKLYN STANDARD.

The Work of a Wizard

"No more fascinating tale has been written by this wizard of the pen."

ROCHESTER DEMOCRAT AND CHRONICLE.

"One of the big stories of the year."

BANGOR DAILY CHRONICLE.

"That Zane Grey is to be numbered among the most popular of American story writers is attested by the enormous sale of his novels, which does not argue that they are without literary merit, for it is possible for a novel to be listed among the best sellers and still maintain a certain degree of literary dignity."

SAN FRANCISCO BULLETIN.

Prophet of the West

"There is a bigness to the novels of Zane Grey that makes them impressive. He is prophet as well as poet of the West."

WASHINGTON HERALD.

"For originality of theme, skill of treatment and exciting interest of situations, Zane Grey, in this book, is entitled to unstinted praise."

LOS ANGELES EXAMINER.

"The book is one that lovers of mankind and the great outdoors will especially enjoy."

SALT LAKE CITY TRIBUNE.

"Many qualifications as a writer of Western stories are possessed by Zane Grey, whose latest novel is one of his best."
